

In partnership with

Infection Prevention Society
Incorporating the ICMA

Infection prevention and control in care homes conference

London – 21 May 2009

To complement the launch of a new educational DVD for care home staff in key areas of infection prevention and control, the Health Protection Agency is holding a one day conference.

This conference will bring together those who share responsibility in this important area. The speakers will address the issues of concern and look at the opportunities for improvement – there will be plenty of time for discussion and questions to the experts during the day.

Topics to be discussed:

- What the new Code of Practice will mean for care homes
- Registration requirements and compliance issues
- Good practice for infection prevention and control
- Support and training – new developments
- Updates in HCAs

Speakers will include representatives from:

- Care Quality Commission
- Department of Health
- Health Protection Agency
- Infection Prevention Society
- National Patient Safety Association

Who should attend:

- Care home managers/owners
- Infection prevention and control specialists
- Community nurses
- PCT and SHA HCAI leads
- Adult care services staff
- Inspectors/regulators
- Health protection unit staff

Registration fee: £90

For further details about the programme and to book your place online please visit:

www.hpa-events.org.uk/CareHomes